NEGATIVE ELECTRODE FOR LITHIUM SECONDARY BATTERY, METHOD FOR PRODUCING SAME, AND LITHIUM SECONDARY BATTERY USING SAME

Examiner: K. Han    SN: 10/539,719    Art Unit: 1795    March 9, 2009

Election/Restrictions

1.     Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-6 and 13-18, drawn to a lithium secondary battery.

Group II, claim(s) 7-12, drawn to a method for manufacturing a negative electrode for lithium secondary batteries.

2.     The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The common technical feature present in all the groups is a negative electrode comprising a graphite A and graphite B where the shape of the primary particles of the graphite are spherical or elliptical with an average particle range between 10 to 30 microns, size of the crystallite of the graphite A in a direction of the c-axis is smaller than 100nm and tap density of the graphite A is 1.0 g/cm<sup>3</sup> or higher, shape of graphite B is flat, average particle of graphite B is between 1 to 10 microns and sizes of the crystallite of the graphite B direction of the c-axis is 100nm or larger. This cannot be a special technical feature under PCT Rule 13.2 because the feature is shown in the prior art. Taniguchi et al. (JP 2001-135304, machine translation) in view of Moriguchi et al. (US 6576369) discloses the elements of the common technical feature. Taniguchi teaches a lithium ion secondary battery which is comprised of cylindrical graphite carbon fibers from 5 to 50 microns, and scale-like graphite powder from 0.1 to 30 microns [Abstract]. Moriguchi teaches a graphite powder suitable for a negative electrode material for a lithium ion secondary battery comprised of graphite powder having a crystallite diameter in the c-axis smaller than 100 nm and tap density of the graphite to be greater than  $1.0 \text{ g/cm}^3$  (Column 8, Lines 23-34; Columns 25-26) for the benefit of forming a lithium ion secondary battery with high discharge capacity and high charge/discharge coulombic efficiency [Abstract]. There is a lack of unity between the groups a posteriori.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
